THE NEW AND GREATER MILAM THEATRE

New Milam Theatre Will Open Here On Friday September 26th; Modern Show House Gives City Greater Advantages in Motion Picture Facilities

Here is Architect Jack Corgan's drawing of the new and greater Milam Theatre which will be formally opened on Friday, September 26.

Stanley Swift, owner of the Theatre, did not know what the program will be at this time. This will be announced later.

The Milam will be one of the modern play houses in Central Texas. In order to achieve this improvement the front of the building was raised about 5 feet and the awning torn away to make the block strictly modern in every detail and increase the brilliance of the Theatre front.

The Milam, which was Cameron's first talking picture show, was first named the New Hefley and later the Milam.

The lobby is a combination of red and orange tile with the walls to be in cream. The box office has been moved to the East side of the lobby and a separate entrance has been made for negroes.

The interior of the Theatre is entirely new and seats are being moved from the Cameron Theatre to the Milam. The building is being redone throughout and when completed will lack nothing to make it a play house worthy of any city.

As can be seen from the architects drawing the modernistic front is a masterpiece of designing. Suspended from the upper portion of the front in neon will be a gigantic sign, The Milam. The front, the awning, and the interior of the lobby will be a network of highly scintillating neon lights. Even the side walk is to be re-done.

The Milam was destroyed in early August by fire. Mr. Swift transferred the programs to the Cameron and has lost no time in providing the patrons of the Milam with the most modern theatre for Cameron that money can buy.

The formal opening here in Friday, September 26th, will inaugurate a new era in motion pictures for Cameron.

S. W. MCCLAREN BURIED AT MARLOW WEDNESDAY

(From Tuesday's Daily)

S. W. McClaren, 72, widely known citizen, land owner and business man, died at 11:30 p. m. Monday, September 15th, 1941, at his farm home in the Marlow Community.

Mr. McClaren had been in declining health for several years. He had recently gone to a Temple hospital but was returned to his home last week.

It was understood that heart ailment together with kidney infection was the immediate cause of his death.

News came to a shocked city early Tuesday. A few friends here learned of his death shortly after midnight but the people at large did not know that he had passed away until early in the morning of Tuesday.

Mr. McClaren was born in Nolansville, Tennessee, in 1869. Most of his life was spent in Milam county for he came here with his parents when a small boy. The family settled on Little River in the Marlow community where the rich lands of the river bottom appealed to the elder McClaren and his son who followed the long furrow of the years held many of its acres in his own name when death took him away from his family on Monday night.

The McClaren home, a rambling, snow white house, tops a sloping hill and to the north and west lie the McClaren farms in the deep soils of Little River bottom. It was here that the deceased as a young man took his bride and through the years they lived in happy security on what their foresight had made for them.

Mr. McClaren was one of the large planters in the bottom lands of Little River. In late years he acquired business property here and was widely known for his business connections.

He knew his business well. He was also a man exceptional information, an incessant reader and was an inspiration to his fellows when he talked. Through recent years when his health became poor he found it necessary to remain at home and was only a frequent visitor to Cameron.

Few men have enjoyed a better estimate than he. Friendly, always considerate, he was jovial and his smile was the sure evidence of a sunny heart. The men of Tennessee were strong. They made Texas a great state and the years to come held many of its acres in his own

AMERICA CALLED UPON FOR MORE WAR POWER

Five billion 985 million dollars for countries fighting the Axis, principally Britain, was asked of Congress today by President Roosevelt.

Germany was pressing hard for victory in Russia and apparently making heavy sacrifices in men and materials for that victory.

The big question before the world today was whether American aid, even though it takes every dollar

Dispute Over Merit Of Pensions Leads To Fight Wednesday

Dave Hemenas, world war veteran, was fined $14 in the City Court Thursday following a fight on Wednesday afternoon with Jess Bell.

The men were discussing the last war and pensions paid to veterans.

Mr. Bell said he did not believe pensions should be paid to those who did not see foreign service. Mr. Hemenas receives compensation for disabilities incurred in service.

As the argument continued tempers rose and blows were exchanged. No charges were filed against Mr. Bell.

After the men were separated Mr. Bell suffered a slight heart attack and was taken to his home in an ambulance and a physician was summoned. He was able to be in town Thursday morning.

MCGREGOR RULES BEST TEAM WITH HEAVY BACKS

It is going to be a tough game Friday night for the Yoemen when McGregor opens the season for the Wood team here.

Nobody has been taking for granted anything in the way of weakness for the McGregor Bulldogs just because they were defeated by Lorena.

In fact the dope is that B Squad started against Lorena. It was one of those games like Sam Houston and Rice Played in 1939. So McGregor was defeated.

The McGregor team has been pointing to Cameron. They are to put into this game the best they can muster. They defeated Cameron last year.

McGregor has five good backs, all seasoned, heavy men.

TEAM SHAPING UP FOR FIRST BIG TEST HERE

On the eve of their first test of the 1941 season the Yoemen were gradually taking form.

There were no illusions about the game Friday night here when the McGregor Bulldogs come down from the hills of Western McLennan.

Much speculation over weeks of diligent hope and inquiry has focused fan attention on the 1941 team of Coach Carrol Wood who is devoting his entire time to the backfield, pinning much hope on the fleet cleats of Bobby Hays.

Dick Young, who played center for Coach Homer Norton on the great Centenary teams, has the line and word comes that Dick has plenty of worries but is doing a magnificent job. Dick entered the coaching game at the insistence of Coach Wood, who induced him to leave his broad acres on Pond Creek and take over the line.

For a long time Coach Wood had coached the Yoemen line, leaving the back field to Punk Bennett who is now ensconced in the driver's seat at Laredo on the Rio Grande. Now Wood has taken the back field since he has Dick Young, who played great foot ball for Centenary and a crack lineman in his day.

To give a comprehensive preview of what the Yoemen may be able to do will require some two days of allotted space and today we discuss the line.

Robert Lee Salach, the pivot man, was all District Center last year. I think it is generally agreed that Salach is the best Center the Yoemen have ever had. He is a three year man and a Senior playing his last year. If all of the line were as good as Salach Coach Dick Young could just come in for week end games.

To bolster the Center of the line, the Yoemen will have two capable guards. James Dycus will play left guard. He is a Senior and playing his second year in the line. James has plenty of stuff and I believe will be knocking at the door for all conference consideration at left guard.

On the right side of Salach will be Homer Terry or Cecil Laywell. Homer weighs 145 pounds and Cecil weighs 130. Terry was on the squad last year while Laywell was coming along with the "B" boys. Both are fighting and both have good possibilities and on their showing so far, Coach Young has been able to concentrate his worries elsewhere.

If there has been anything sensational in the line so far, it has been Owen Stidham, the rugged 160 pound blonde who has taken over right tackle. So far Stidham has no competition and it was no secret that the coaches were proud of his showing and determination to do his share on the Varsity this year.

Last year Stidham was a sensation on the B Squad. Admirers in town were making no secret of the hope they have pinned to the fighting spirit of the blonde whirlwind and word comes that he has made good and will be ready for the game on Friday night.

JESSE JAMES

Jesse James Keeps Things Humming for State Treasury

(Austin Tribune)

Jesse James, chief clerk and acting treasurer in the event of the absence of State Treasurer Charlie Lockhart, has earned the reputation of being one of the fastest and hardest working executive officials of any of the state departments housed under the capitol dome.

The Milam County redhead sets a pace for his fellow workers that sometimes leaves them gasping. He has been known to handle a dozen separate transactions almost simultaneously and still have time to greet any official or friend dropping

Knitted Garments to Be Sent Away Sept. 20

The next shipment of garments for the American Red Cross will be made from Cameron on September 20th.

Mrs. Stanley Swift Friday said that it is important that all who have garments finish them and have them at the Red Cross headquarters by September 20th. The Red Cross room is located over the old Bluebonnet Cafe.

The work here has been very satisfactory of late and officials of the Chapter are thankful for this operation.

JOE BILL WHITE IS IN TYLER HOSPITAL; SURGEON OPERATES TUESDAY

Joe Bill White was in Mother Frances Hospital in Tyler Tuesday afternoon where Dr. T. B. Abney of Overton operated for appendicitis.

White suffered an attack Monday at noon while on his way to his apartment in Overton. His condition was reported satisfactory late Monday but grew worse on Tuesday when he was taken to Tyler for the operation.

He is employed in the East Texas oil field.

A telegram from Dr. Abney at 3:26 said the operation was successful and the patient doing well.

JAPS DETAIN OIL SHIP IN HARBOR AT SHANGHAI

The first act to stop American oil shipments occurred in Shanghai, China, Tuesday when the Japanese authorities, interrupted the voyage of an American oil ship in the harbor.

The United States government was conducting an investigation.

The freighter was said to be on its way to Manila in the Philippines and had stopped at Shanghai to discharge a part of the cargo. Japanese officials refused to clear the vessel.

The ship is loaded with oil. Re-

Carter Gets Four Years in Prison

J. W. Carter, of Milano, convicted of burglary and theft, was given four years in Texas prison Monday in District Court.

He made a statement in which he admitted the robberies at Milano. He was also held on similar charges in Cameron but was never convicted.

Irvin McKinney, arrested by City Marshal, Gene, Smith, in connection with the Cameron robberies, was not indicted. Mrs. J. W. Carter repudiated her statement and no witnesses were available to the state.

Earl Brandenburg, Hoyte negro, was sentenced to 3 years in prison for robbery.

Gregoria Ortiz, charged with assault with intent to murder, was given a suspended sentence.

G. F. Touchstone and Albert Abel of Rockdale, both charged with chicken stealing will be guests of the county for ten days in the jail.

Invented by members of Lone Star Gas paint crew this boat-swin's chair enables them to paint pipeline suspension bridge rods in less time than they used to require. It was designed primarily for the safety of the painter.

GAS MEN invent CHAIR TO PAINT BRIDGE

Every Lone Star Gas System Employee understands that his first duty is to maintain the dependability of Lone Star Service... for dependability is the prime factor in establishing the value to you of your gas service.

In performing his duty, whether at a desk analyzing maintenance costs or in the field overhauling a piece of machinery, a Lone Star Gas Man meets problems which are a test of his skill, a challenge to his ingenuity. For instance, in keeping pipeline suspension bridges in ship-shape condition, painting the suspender rods has been a problem. Now the job is easy and done twice as fast because of a boat-swin's chair invented by the paint crew which permits the painter to move from rod to rod in complete safety.

This is only one example of how a Lone Star Gas Man goes about the important job of maintaining Lone Star dependability. In improvising special tools for special jobs he increases the organization and operating efficiency which are reflected in Lone Star's low rates.

MEMO to Lone Star Customers:

The past few months have been the busiest season for Lone Star Employees in putting the system in shape to meet the coming winter's demands. Why not take their work as an example and put your own equipment in good operating condition?

FORMER YOEMEN TALK ABOUT THE 1941 TEAM

The modern difficulty in football here is to get men out for play.

In the old days, that is some 19 to 20 years ago Coaches seem to have had a sprinkle of the same trouble. This concerns football in 1922 and also one of Cameron's leading business men, and a young man too.

Franklin Dusek was a rugged individual of the gridiron in those days. He remembers the boulder strewn fields on which he played and in dry seasons there were cracks in the ground, too large to be ordinary hazards.

I innocently made a hero out of Franklin, so he told me. He appreciated the compliment but had to correct me. He never played on a team that defeated Belton, but they did tie the Tigers in 1922. That's about all anybody has ever done so far as we can find out.

That was the year of the great plague. Everybody had boils and also were in the hospital at one time or another during the season. Dusek and Coach Perkins were about the only ones to escape.

Dusek was a great lineman. He played every position in the line that year, including center. There was no conference. They played from week to week as they were able to match games.

One day they suited up at the school here and went to Rogers. Nobody showed up and so they came back home.

That year they had a game with Temple. They got beat 36 to 0 but most of the boys were out with boils. It wasn't so bad when we recall that Mack Saxon and George Waters were in the Temple team that year. Mack is one of the immortals among the Longhorns. Waters was recently killed on the streets of Temple.

Football was rough in those days. Few escaped without some kind of injury, many times permanent.

Joe Hefley, later to star in the backfield, played end that year. Bassett Watson substituted for Eugene Green at fullback position in that game.

They often played at Midway, that is the old fair grounds between Temple and Belton. Temple, Taylor and Belton were the best teams that year.

One afternoon in October they went to Taylor. The boys lost a heart breaker which they should have won. Nearly all the boys cried after the game. Coach Perkins felt miserable and so sympathetic that he decided to give the boys a big feed at a restaurant down town.

They seated themselves and began to order. Perkins had to go away for a while. When he returned Rube Johnson had eaten four dozen oysters and had ordered more. The coach had to call a halt before all the gate receipts were wiped out.

Jack (Gappy) Taylor played that year. He was a tackle. Later he went to Baylor, played under Frank Bridges and was with the Bears in the game with Notre Dame at Fort Bend, Ind. Jack later told me it was the only game of football he ever layed laying on the ground. The Irish were noted for their tackles and blocking.

"We had better uniforms than you've heard about. They might not have been anything like modern day equipment but a little better than Nig Moody indicates. Nig was a great football player. I think Fred Childress was the brightest prospect I ever saw."

Uniforms were furnished by the business men in those days. They never had much of a gate at any game.

Franklin ended his career in high school football that year. He went to San Marcos Teachers College and came out for football. Next year he went to the University but did not try to make the team.

The team that year was made up of some immortals. There was Lyons McCall, who rated all TIAA. He was a half back and played with Southwest State Teachers at San Marcos.

Shorty Baggett had great possibilities but did not follow up in College. Harleigh McGregor, now auditor for the Texas Company, was quarterback. Togo Joyner, played center and Eugene (Brr) Green was fullback.

There were such men as Jack Hearrell, Rube Johnson, John Henry Yoe, Hayden Willis, Cotton Thompson, Jack Taylor.

L. Van Perkins coached in a period when material was both scarce and plentiful.

Dusek was one of the best linemen ever to play here. His great adaptability enabled him to play any position. He was well schooled in the fundamentals. Like so many of the immortals at Yoe High he never followed up at College. He has made a success in business and holds memories of high school football days among the prized experiences of his youth.

It is interesting to get the viewpoint of the football player himself. Coaches usually are the least informed of all, to hear them talk, about team chances.

To get an unprejudiced opinion of what the 1941 Yoemen look like from this stage of the game, I have been asking former Yoemen to talk. Not much time is left before the first game with McGregor and I will not have time to get them all.

I think it would be interesting to get the viewpoint of people who never see football. At least it would be as reliable as the dope coaches put out in their pre-season period of mourning.

Fred Allen who graduated from Yoe High in 1939 left Tuesday for San Marcos. He was a star back. He made his way to state finals in the Golden Gloves tournament without previous training and may have gone far in the fistie world. Now he goes to school and that's better. Fred will come out for football at San Marcos if things plan out as he anticipates.

He was a seat back and had possibilities. The team in 1939 made very little showing in the conference but Fred was a stand out.

He thinks the Yoemen this year are good. He believes they should go far but hesitates to predict they will win the District. He has watched them work out for several days before leaving. He would make some changes. Here's the football player idea of what he would do. Without saying too much he made no secret of his disappointment over the line. He thinks the ends are yet to be proven but believes they will come through.

He would make some changes in the line and thinks Jimmy Angel would have a chance to become a power in the backfield. Guard positions are weaker because the boys are not well experienced nor have they the weight desired. Loss of J. P. Gooch hurt the guard positions. Gooch will not be eligible this year. He did not pass his work in school. Byron (Sycamore) Graham, tall end was not due to get back in the camp for the same reason but may have made the grade.

He told me he would let me know but I haven't seen him since.

Fred thinks replacements may plague the team some. After all, he said, substitutions must be made and injuries often break up a winning ball club. He cited the recent Baylor debacle when Jack Wilson went out with an injured spine.

Cameron had 27 men out first day. There may have been an increase. Officially we get nothing on the ball club. That is usually reserved for great metropolitan sheets like the Temple Telegram.

Jinx Tucker picks the Rice Owls to win the Southwest conference. Red Collins and a few other A & M fans are taking Alkaselzer regularly.

Health Headlines For James Radtke

James Leland Radtke, Cameron baby and son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Radtke, is so healthy he won the spotlight this week and was pictured on the front page of Grow Fit, a publication issued by the United States Department of Agriculture at A & M College.

The picture of James covers the front page of the publication. He is drinking a glass of milk, a very excellent photograph.

WAR

and presses down the people with debt for generations, could prevail against the Axis alone.

In Britain the people and the press were clamoring for battle. Now that Russia has Germany so heavily engaged the British were demanding an army in Europe.

Lightning advances on Kiev were reported. Around Leningrad the situation was obscure.

The Nazi have bombed Moscow, Odessa and Leningrad.

An attack on Turkey was forecast when Bulgaria formally requested passage of ships through the Dardanelles. This has been refused and Turkey has been marked for slaughter.

Meanwhile the British were taking it easy, doing a little bombing and no fighting. One report said that British planes were in action on the Russian front.

The German strategy seemed to be to isolate the Black Sea for a gigantic movement against the British in the near East and in the Mediterranean.

If any British troops are engaged this winter in war it seemed they might attack in Libya provided they get American aid through the red sea.

Brave words have been spoken in Washington but no shots have as yet been fired.

JAMES

in for a brief chat or for information pertaining to the State's financial setup.

It is his job to see that the wheels of this department move at top speed and one hundred percent errorless. All of the state's major funds move through this department, in addition to a score or more of special funds deposited by the numerous departments and commissions.

One of the most important and necessary functions of the department is that the chief clerk must be able to furnish the balance or total of any fund on brief notice, and this is done to perfection.

Funds running into the millions must balance to the penny and when, ever the executives of a state department prepare to spend certain allotted sums of money it is an even bet that James will be called into the conference somewhere down the line. In fact he spends a fairly good portion of his office hours in the office of one department or another.

James first stepped into the limelight of politics through his election as state representative. He lost no time as usual in starting through the legislative hopper a number of highly important measures dealing with state financing and taxation, which were enacted into the law without a hitch.

His work in this particular field of finance was so outstanding during his three terms as a lawmaker that he was tendered the position of chief clerk of the state treasury. The work was exactly to his fancy and fitted perfectly with his self training and his vast field of experience so that he moved forward rapidly.

The only aid received by pensioners up to the last session was provided for in a tax bill he sponsored.

Besides his official duties he is an active member of the Knights of Pythias and Masonic orders and a member of the Presbyterian church.

For relaxation, he prefers to get out in the open for a turn at fishing, hunting and his many trophies prove that he plays as earnestly as he works.

cently ships bound for Vladivostok, Siberian port with aviation gasoline for Russia, were permitted to pass through the sea of Japan.

The armies of Red Russia were facing grave peril as the Germans continued their pressure on the front at Leningrad and in the Ukraine.

The situation in the Ukraine was admitted to be grave and Lord Halifax, British Ambassador to Washington, said the Reds need aid. Britain has given little aid to any nation caught in the German sweep. The British have lost face for their failure to fight.

Secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, told the American Legion Convention in Milwaukee that on Tuesday the American navy would begin shooting. This was taken in Berlin even more serious than the Roosevelt order to shoot Axis subs and raiders.

Berlin claimed Tuesday that 15 Russian army divisions have been destroyed on the Leningrad front. The Royal Air Force was carrying out extensive raids over Germany. Washington was quiet and perhaps waiting for another crisis.

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 21.

The Golden Text is: "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world." (I John 2:15.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called, with all lowliness and meekness, with long suffering, forbearing one in love, endeavoring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace." (Ephesians 4:1-3.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Emerge gently from matter into Spirit. Think not to thwart the spiritual ultimate of all things, but come naturally into Spirit through better health and morals and as the result of spiritual growth." (Page 485.)

YOEMEN

There is some question as yet about the position of left tackle but LeRoy Stecker, weighing 165 pounds will no doubt be in the starting lineup Friday night. Stecher is a Sophomore and has great possibilities. It may be his lack of experience or mere timidity for he has not thus far put the fire of which he is capable into his play. The game Friday night will be a real test and the Coaches were deeply impressed by his ability and believe he will come through in grand style.

Reserve tackles are weak. There are two Sophomores who are coming along with reasonable progress. They are Darrell Tindall, who weighs 155 pounds and Freddie Jackson who weighs 205. Much will depend upon their showing in case of substitutions. The Coaches have great hope for both boys and believe they can make the grade in good Yoemen fashion.

Last minute decision may change the line somewhat. There was a possibility that Homer Terry may be shifted to left tackle and Stecher placed at guard.

The end positions are the biggest problems in the line. The Coaches have been weeping bitterly for weeks but there have been rays of sun shine during the past few days over the showing of George Michalka who is on the left wing of the line coming up from the B team last year. He has been showing great improvement in a good consistent game and will get the call for starting position Friday night. Michalka weighs 146 pounds and has determination to make good.

Curtis Phipps, who came in from Maysfield and who weighs 157 pounds has a very fine attitude although he has had no previous experience in foot ball. He has been good enough to get the call for starting at right end Friday night. Coach Young, as well as Coach Wood, believes that Phipps has great possibilities and they have displayed their confidence in both Phipps and Michalka by giving them difficult positions on a team that must pass and be plenty tricky to get anywhere this year.

Men who may be called on for important substitutions at end positions this year are W. B. McLerran who is on the Squad and Clyde Batte. These boys are definitely in the picture.

The big heart break of the week was the injury sustained by Woodrow Ermis in the game against Granger. Ermis was due to be the starter at the left wing position, but may not get in the game and in the meantime Michalka is fighting his way up for a spot in the sun.

Tomorrow we will discuss the Yoemen back field.

YOEMEN BACKS ARE FEW

Deception and strategy have revolutionized football. When Knute Rockne conceived the forward pass the ability to win was shaken down to the little fellows with stout hearts who clog every football field in America.

Carroll Wood, coach at Yoe High, has had to do a lot of thinking. They tell me he is burning the lights late every night, long after you and I have gone with the Sand Man, trying to figure some way to beat that heavy team his boys have to face next week.

Yesterday we had a scant look at the line for 1941. Today we look at the backfield.

There is no way to escape the feeling that somewhere along the schedule this fall Coach Wood will need Red Bell, Cecil Tindall and Arthur Cobb.

Mack Nicholson, Co-Captain with Robert Lee Salach this year, has a difficult job to do. He will be called upon to do a lot of blocking for Bobby Hays. He has put on 13 pounds since last year when he starred at 135 pounds. Mack now weighs 148 pounds. He's got a great heart and quite the most agreeable chap ever to wear the maroon and gray and he sets a fast pace. Much will depend on Mack's play this year. He has the ability, can punt, run with the ball and block. He's one of the let-termen back this year.

Bobby Hays, accounted the outstanding threat of the conference, in our catalog is listed a triple threat man. He made all district last year, is a Senior and will call signals. Bobby will score on any team. His will be the big burden and there is no discounting the fact he will be called upon to be a super-man. Hays weighs 155 pounds. Last year he stretched his 145 pounds across the trail of a lot of heavy metn to beat them out for a place on the mythical eleven. He was the unanimous choice of the coaches.

Bobby is punting this year. He's fitting in well with the passing game whatever it develops to be. He will be a much spotted backfield man. He's too dangerous to leave loose so we will see a lot of concentration on Hays, but he'll get loose a plenty. If you haven't bought your season ticket yet, just figure Hays is worth the price and then some. From one of the best scoring backs of the conference last year he comes up for another stellar role. Bobby is just 16 years old.

Frank Torno who was like Davey O'Brien last year, gets a birth in the backfield in 1941. Frank weighed 120 pounds last year. He's put on 11 pounds but still is a 131 pound boy. What he lacks in weight he makes up in speed and football heart. Frank is a sophomore and that's just about the best news there is to write. He'll be in there two more years. Coaches think he is a bright prospect. This year he has plenty of stuff and will get the call a plenty. Frank is one reason why I want to see all these Yoemen games this year.

The right wing back is Johnnie Wilkinson of Maysfield. He was on the squad last year. Coach Wood can kindle his hopes every time Wilkinson goes into action for he is looking plenty good. He weighs 155 pounds. His difficulties are multiplied because of lack playing experience but seems destined to play a big part in the backfield play this fall. Wilkinson has determination, good judgment and is willing. It's a safe prediction that he will set some fields afire before the curtain drops in November. He's already built up a lot of fan talk in town.

That just about completes the picture. Not much prospect, you say, yet plenty of possibilities. The only dark note is the lack of replacements. Injuries come to every team. Just think of the moaning now over the injury Ermis sustained in the Granger game. He's a first string end.

If I could wield the magic wand I would put in Hope Eanes a big desire to make everybody in the back field eat dust. Hope's got everything perhaps except a desire to play football as he might. I saw him last year and so did you. He was the big toast of those faithful fans who went out last fall to see the B Squad play. Hope weighs 125 pounds. If he wills to do he could just about dazzle everything in the conference. Hope is our hope.

The backfield may come along better than at first glance. Albert Rettig, a 125 pound back, is working hard. He may beat out some of the regulars, at least he's a lot of comfort to the coaches who visualize injuries.

There are other hopefuls on the team. Billy Cosby, a guard, weighs 160 pounds. He was on the squad last year. He has fine possibilities if he works hard.

John Wallace a 142 pound tackle is playing his first year of football. He comes in from Yarrellton. He's looking good to the coaches and before the season is over will get into the picture.

Lane Horstmann, 126 pound center, is the only understudy for Robert Lee Salach. The coaches say Horstmann is looking good.

Two tackles, Monte Angell of Cameron and Wiley Whittington of Maysfield are coming along, doing a lot of hard work. Angell weighs 150 pounds and Whittington weighs 157 pounds.

Joe Bill Heath has reported to the team for work. He's a tackle also and has plenty of weight.

Little Spec Shumate weighs 196 pounds. Last year he could hardly register on the scales but played a whale of a game for the B boys. He's a guard and has everything a football player should have. J. T. may get a lot of line play this year if any of the big boys get knocked out.

GERTRUDE BURSTYN SCORES LARGEST NUMBER IN QUOTA FOR RED CROSS KNITTINGS

Gertrude Burstyn who owns the Gertrude Millinery Shop here, has made something of a record in Red Cross work.

During the past week she has placed 150 garments with knitters for the Red Cross quota under the National Emergency.

The Local Chapter Red Cross has undertaken a large share of the work being done throughout the state in knitting garments for work among peoples in war torn countries. Miss Burstyn has been commended by the local Red Cross officials for her great contribution to the local effort.

Miss Mary E. Manning who had been spending two weeks here with her parents, left Sunday for Dallas where she took the train to Washington, D. C., to again take up her work in the War Department, where she has been employed the past 15 months. Miss Manning expressed herself as being satisfied with the work. All employers and head directors are very considerate with the employees, and said it was a real pleasure to work there. She is keeping house in an apartment with another Milam county girl, Miss Myrtle Crouch who formerly lived in Cameron and was a stenographer for the late W. A. Morrison. They motored down in a car of Crouch's and she will continue her visit for two more weeks, visiting relatives and friends in and around Milam county. Miss Manning reported that there are 40,000 people working in the War Department where she works. She said that Washington is more crowded each month, people taking up positions in different departments of the Government.

Ila Jean Stidham of Austin is spending the week end with her family.

BLACK SEA CAMPAIGN LOOMS FOR WINTER

German armies have broken through Russian defenses and made substantial gains in the Odessa area of the Ukraine.

Movement of troops in Bulgaria and the mobilization of Bulgarian armies indicated to observers that the Germans are preparing to fight this winter in Syria, Suez and Mediterranean. This would mean an attack on Turkey.

There were evidence of a gathering storm in Libya as the Tobruk area showed signs of a renewed conflict.

It has been expected for some time that Germany will invade Turkey in order to drive the British out of Persia. Sunday night sources generally regarded as competent to say, said that the British are about to launch a new battle around Tobruk to drive the Italians and Germans out of Africa.

The battle in Africa will feature a new army of Austratians equipped with American munitions of war including airplanes.

The Germans claimed to have made some advances at Leningrad but the Russians deny this. On the central front the Russians are still advancing.

After the rout of the Germans around Smolensk the Moscow radio chided Hitler as a Penny, Half Pint Napoleon, inviting the Nazi leader to Moscow.

FORMER YOEMEN TALK ABOUT THE 1941 TEAM

Cecil (Red) Tindall, Captain of the ill fated 1940 Yoemen team, thinks the prospects for 1941 are bright.

Coaches generally are pessimistic. They like to make other coaches think their chances are bad. The public don't like such talk. It's bad on the gate receipts. Nobody likes to pay admission to see a bad football team play a bad game.

One simply cannot rely on what coaches say. They should be quarantined. They are a doleful lot and seem to know very little. So we have decided to ask football players what the chances are.

I ran across Tindall at the Palace of Sweets. He's leaving soon for San Marcos State Teachers College. With him will go two team mates, Fred Allen and Putley Dierr. They will come out for football there and should make the team.

Tindall, Dierr and Allen made good in the Golden Gloves tournament with Fred Allen reaching the state finals.

Tindall played half back in 1940. He thinks the team of 1941 is a lot faster and will go far in the district. He would not predict a district title. The team this year is a man for man heavier team than the 1940 team. It's a lot faster and although only 27 men were out that is quite enough if they all get in there and fight.

Tindall thinks the end positions have been weakened some over the 1940 team but a couple of lads are in their fighting. Bobby Hays, he thinks will be a better passer than last year and an all around better back. Bobby has gained some weight.

Jimmy Angell may be shifted to the backfield. He is a fast boy and could give somebody plenty of trouble. Angell is now in the line. He weighs about 170.

"If they all get in there and fight you will see those Yoemen go places this year," said Tindall.

Not so optimistic yet visualizing a good record this year for the Yoemen, a former guard, Clayton (Putley) Dierr, talked about their chances before leaving the city Tuesday for San Marcos where he will enter Southwest State Teachers College this fall.

Putley played on the poor teams of the past few years. He graduated in June 1939 after four years football. He wants to enter an engineering school, with preference for petroleum. He thinks a preliminary college experience and all the math he can get will help him.

The 1941 team has a lot of potentialities, he thinks. The line is the major problem, although the backfield is not strong enough for all kinds of opposition. Putley thinks the Yoemen will go far in the district if they only buckle down and work hard.

Cameron usually fares well in early season play. The team begins in September and gets in a lot of early work and appear in better condition earlier than the average conference squad.

Cameron has never defeated Belton in conference history and the tables have been turned by Taylor. The Ducks have been beating Cameron with consistent regularity for several years.

Putley thinks that some shifts might be made in the line. However no material is available to effect much difference. The guard positions are weak and ends don't look any too good. On the whole the team is heavier than the 1940 team. Yoemen haven't had a real center since Red Blaylock, now with the FBI, played on the District Championship team in 1936.

Allowing plenty of discount for local pride the team still has a better than average chance to go places. The ice is rather thin because of the lack of materials and men. Injuries may enter the picture and destroy the Yoemen. There is no adequate substitute for Bobby Hays in the backfield. Bobby is improving as a punter. He has also put on some weight. Putley thinks the backfield is going to come through if no injuries occur. But he thinks the line is a little doubtful.

On the whole the picture is not as black as painted by the official mourners, coaches and members of the Athletic Council now thinned down by the loss of Alex Triggs and the disposition of some not to work.

Much will depend on the element of luck for the 1941 Yoemen have possibilities which may see them far.

Putley was in the Golden Gloves tournament that took Cameron to a number of cups. He fought his way to the finals but lost. He'd rather stick his head in a math book now than have it shot at by wild gloves in the amateur ranks.

ITALY SAYS WILL SINK U. S. SHIPS ON SIGHT

Reaction to the address of President Roosevelt in Berlin and Rome seemed certain today to lead to war between the United States and the Axis powers.

President Roosevelt on last night said orders had been given to the American navy to sink on sight any Axis ship found in Hemisphere waters and indicated such action might be taken anywhere in the world wherever American ships may go.

The Germans Friday said that they will not be turned aside from their determination to sink all ships carrying supplies to Britain or used in any way to aid the enemies of the Axis. Reiterating a previous determination, the Germans said they would pay no attention to Roosevelt and would see to it that Churchill gets no relief from America.

In Italy the reaction was even more pronounced. The Italians say that the action of President Roosevelt gives Axis war ships and submarines every right to attack the American navy or ships of the American flag wherever they may be found. The Italians' statement continued with the declaration that this will be done.

While it was said in advance in Washington that no question could be raised about the President's speech, there was a great question today and that question is "Are the United States at war with the Axis powers?"

The issue seems squarely joined and if Mr. Roosevelt means what he said and Hitler and Mussolini mean what they say, a shooting war is on everywhere along the sea lanes of the world.

Mr. Roosevelt's speech was disappointing to a great extent. It said nothing beyond what he had said as far back as 1940. There was a belief that the American navy had already received such orders as he announced last night, but the American people had not been told about them.

What Mr. Roosevelt has done may lead to war and thereby the American people may have the satisfaction after all of having some part in exterminating the Nazis and the Fascists.

NAZI MASSING ENTIRE AIR FLEET FOR ASSAULT

The battle of Leningrad was raging Saturday and the second Soviet city seemed destined to suffer the fate of Warsaw in 1939.

Adolph Hitler who gave his commanders orders to take Leningrad no matter what the cost, had massed the entire Nazi air fleet and Leningrad was being bombed as no other city has been attacked.

The Germans said they would destroy the city and kill all its population if necessary to run the Russian army out of that area.

The Germans were also throwing their air fleet against the Russians on other sections of the line, and were making a desperate effort to check the Russian advances.

The Germans had made important advances and Leningrad had suffered the worse bombardment from the air of any city with the possible exception of Warsaw.

Adolph Hitler was determined to win the battle in the east before effective aid can reach the Soviet.

The Moscow radio admitted the assault on Leningrad had begun but claimed that the Germans have been stopped and have not made the advances claimed by Berlin. It was expected that within the next 48 hours the fate of Leningrad and perhaps the whole Russian position in the Arctic Region would be determined.
